The BCX-5800 is a sturdy, dependable and efficient general purpose scanner designed for speed and ease-of-use. Its built-in 2D scan engine is able to easily read all codes, and Bluetooth connectivity allows the scanner to be used wirelessly, giving operators a great level of freedom and control. Its operational distance extends to an impressive 50 meters, allowing staff to use the scanner all over the shop floor or warehouse.

Tough and rugged, the BCX-5800 is also capable of withstanding accidental bumps and knocks, with a tried and tested drop resistance rating of 1.5 meters, ideal for bustling shop floors where accidents are often difficult to avoid. An option to use a plug-in cable for a PC connection is convenient when Bluetooth is not needed, allowing the device to work without needing to charge. The read light on the scanner is also bright and bold, making it easier for operators to target codes and operate the scanner more efficiently.
